Fall Semester 2019, TR 12:30, Morrill Hall 306

Instructor: Dennis Preston -- dennis.preston@okstate.edu

Folklore is what everybody (at least everybody you know) knows. You didn't learn it in school. It's the literature, poetry, art, music, theater, handicraft, and even just plain-old ways of behaving that are pieces of culture learned outside schools, concert-halls, libraries, and many other places where you might be shushed for talking too loud or out of turn.

This course will look at studies that take all this stuff seriously and try to get you to do so too.
